PRESIDENT'S WIFE, WORN BY SOCIAL DUTIES, SOON TO GO TO SUMMER WHITE HOUSE FOR NEEDED REST

President Wilson and his family will soon be located at Harlakenden, Winston Churchill's summer residence near Cornish, N. H., which the novelist has given for the Wilson's use. Because of the nervous breakdown from which Mrs. Wilson is suffering as a result of her social activities since the inauguration she will go to the summer White House before July 1, probably with her daughters, and the President will follow just as soon as the cares of the tariff and currency reforms are off his shoulders. Both the President and his wife will then have a chance to smile in real earnest and rest up for the autumn resumption of their official life at Washington.

COX DEFENDS THE WARNES ACT

Claims Liability Companies Are Behind Referendum.

UPHOLDS THE NEW TAX SYSTEM

Governor of Ohio and Former President Taft Are Speakers at the Dedication of the New Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce Building—Latter Foresees the End of the Initiative and Referendum.

Cincinnati, O., June 27.—Governor James M. Cox, speaking at the banquet given in connection with the dedication of the new Chamber of Commerce building, defended the Warnes act, reforming the system of tax assessment in Ohio, and condemned the proposed referendum thereon. The governor charged that the great liability companies operating in Ohio are behind the movement for a referendum, seeking thus to avoid having but one subject, that of insurance, referred to the people. He warmly defended the Warnes act, as assuring fairer assessments at less expense, and declared that the proposed referendum of the measure to popular vote violates the spirit of the referendum movement.

The governor concluded: "There is not a man assembled in this presence tonight but who knows that the Green workmen's compensation bill and the Warnes tax bill correct conditions that can not be defended, and the patriotism of our state should inspire support in behalf of those who are seeking in a conscientious way to work out the problems of the day."

Taft a Speaker.

Former President Taft delivered the principal address at the dedication of the new building. He praised the anti-trust laws of the country, voicing the hope that the business men responsible for the conduct of large corporations would be compelled so to operate their business that they would not only cheapen the product, but also treat their rivals fairly.

In speaking of the initiative, referendum and recall, Mr. Taft said: "If we find, as we are sure to find, that the initiative and the referendum and the recall will practically destroy representative government to the extent of placing power in the hands of a dwindling and not wise minority, we will find it through hard experience. But the people may be trusted to retrace their steps and come back to the representative and popular government plan."

Joseph E. Davies, commissioner of corporations, was another speaker. As representative of the present administration, Mr. Davies closed his address with the following sentence: "Legitimate business, big or little, that is on the level, has little to fear from the present administration. Little business or big business which is not right should get right."

LAWYERS SAY BIG SENSATION TO BE SPRUNG IN SHORT TIME

Washington Is on the Qui Vive Awaiting the Promised Disclosures as a Result of the Work of Burns Detectives.

PAPERS BEING PREPARED FOR THE PRINCIPAL COUP.

May Be Placed on the Public Files Any Hour. Local Men are in Conference With Attorneys and Proceedings in the More Sensational Cases, Are, It Is Said, Awaiting Only the Careful Preparation of the Documents.

The visit to this city of Burns detectives and the shake-up which has been promised by those back of the movement, and which was started Thursday evening by the filing of a half score of affidavits before Mayor Wade Creath of Bloomington, has been the general theme of conversation throughout the city since knowledge of the affair was given to the public in Thursday's evening Herald.

Great surprise was manifested on all sides, and there was more than one exceedingly nervous one in the city last night who was wondering if the thunderbolt would strike in his direction.

Thursday evening a member of the Law and Order League, which organization has engineered the clean-up, went to Bloomington where he met Attorney D. B. Ulrey, of the firm of Badger & Ulrey, and two assistants, Charles A. Leach and Coleman Rogers. The attorney had a stack of affidavits and ten of them were filed before Mayor Wade Creath.

After spending some time in Bloomington the three attorneys, who have been retained to push the cases against the offenders who have been and are expected to be arrested here, returned to Columbus to await summons to appear with their witnesses and substantiate the charges.

Thursday night state warrants were placed in the hands of Marshal George W. Gordon, of Bloomington, and he came to this city to make his first haul. Upon arriving here he asked the assistance of Sheriff Nelson and Deputy Sheriff A. C. Nelson, who were called upon to help make the arrests.

Early in the night four of the men wanted were in the county jail awaiting their preliminary hearing before Mayor Creath of Bloomington. The men arrested are: A. B. Cash, Albert Brown, Henry H. Brown and Albert (Rabbit) Smith.

All of the men were charged with bootlegging, selling to one J. O. Carson, a Burns detective.

There were two charges against Cash, two against Henry H. Brown, one against Rabbit Smith and one against Albert Brown.

All of the alleged offenses are said to have taken place in this city between June 5th to June 22nd.

When it became known that the first arrests were being made little groups collected on the streets or lingered near the county jail, all eager to learn more about the affair which

RESOLUTION HAS NO OPPOSITION

It Calls For All the Papers In the Caminetti-Diggs Case.

TO BE REPORTED FAVORABLY

Course Taken by President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds in the California Affair Bitterly Denounced by Representative Mann, Republican Floor Leader and Author of the White Slave Act.

Washington, June 27.—No action was taken by the house judiciary committee on the Kahn resolution calling on the attorney general for all papers in the Caminetti-Diggs case. This was due to the failure of a quorum to respond to Chairman Clayton's call for a meeting. Representative Kahn was present and spoke in favor of his resolution. There is no opposition to the measure and it will be reported either at a specially called meeting to be held this evening or tomorrow or at the regular meeting of the committee next week.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, Republican leader and author of the white slave law, made a bitter attack upon President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds on the floor of the house because of the

EGG KING INDICTED

Collusion With Inspectors to Defraud Railroads the Charge.

New York, June 27.—The federal grand jury handed down 10 indictments involving three large New York wholesale egg concerns in an alleged collusion with railroad inspectors to defraud the railroads by putting in fraudulent damage claims for eggs broken in transit. It is claimed that the railroads have paid out $80,000 in excessive damage claims during the last year over and above the amount they received for transporting eggs.

Among those indicted is the firm of R. B. Shimer & Company. All the indicted men pleaded not guilty to each of the 15 counts. Harry C. Shimer, one of the members of this firm, is known as the egg king, and it is said that his firm does a business of $3,000,000 in eggs and butter.

BLACKHANDER TRIAL

Cleveland, O., June 27.—Charged sending a threatening letter to President Wilson, demanding $5,000, Giuseppe Pamora of Youngstown, O., was placed on trial in federal court here. Ira R. B. Smith, a clerk in President Wilson's executive office, testified to opening two letters addressed to the president, each demanding $5,000 and threatening death.

DR. JOHN C. BRANNER IS NEW PRESIDENT OF STANFORD UNIVERSITY

Palo Alto, Cal., June 27.—Dr. John Casper Branner is the new president of Leland Stanford, Jr., university, succeeding David Star Jordan, who retires to devote his life to universal peace. Dr. Branner has been with the university for twenty-one years, thirteen of which he was professor of geology. Stanford is now one of the big universities of the country, and Dr. Branner will hold an important post in the educational field of the country.

Washington, June 27.—President Wilson nominated the following Ohio postmasters: A. H. Meeker, Greenville; J. M. Fitzpatrick, Bethel; C. A. Wagner, Kenmore; C. C. Fowler, Canfield; Charles A. Baker, Germantown; Andrew Hiss, Norwalk.

has been "the biggest thing sprung in Washington in many a day."

Attorney Ulrey, when interviewed by a Herald reporter while at Bloomingburg Thursday afternoon, laughingly said: "This is just a small part of what we have on tap. It was easy picking for the detectives, according to the information we have on hand."

According to information given out by Attorney Ulrey, a sensation which may be far reaching may be sprung by him within a day or two, and according to his statement charges of a serious character are being prepared for filing against an official whom he alleges was involved in the clean-up in this city. Mr. Ulrey expressed himself as being sure of his evidence, and said it had now reached a point where the charges were under course of preparation.

"More affidavits will be forthcoming when the first batch is disposed of," said one of the men back of the movement. "We are commencing at the bottom and intend using all of the evidence we have, and there is plenty of it," said another member of the organization.

Intense interest is manifested on all sides in the proceedings and if reports from those who claim to "know" are to be relied upon, interest will not wane.

Other affidavits are expected to be filed at any time, and arrests of the others against whom affidavits have been filed are expected at any moment. One of them is said to be a woman and one charge is bootlegging and another one more serious than the bootlegging charge.

It is reported that the operator at one of the local telephone exchanges had requests from 35 citizens to call them in time for the early B & O trains this morning.

The trial of some of the cases before Mayor Creath of Bloomingburg, was begun this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

NOTICE OF LAND SALE.

The Henry and Malissa Snyder land of 104 acres, 2 1/2 miles south of Washington C. H., Ohio, will be sold at Sheriff's partition sale at the door of the Court House at 2 p. m., on Saturday, July 12th, 1913. A splendid farm, well improved and in fine location.

SHEETS AND VEIL CAUSE EXTRA COUNCIL SESSION

Council Met Last Night and Considered Petition Asking That an Election Be Called to Decide Question of Charter Commission.

TWO MEMBERS VOTE AGAINST IMMEDIATE ACTION ON QUESTION

Members Anxious to Have Definite Action Taken as Question Can Be Decided at Primary Election, Call for Another Special Session Tonight to Take Further Action—Durant Reminds Negative Voters of Their Oath to Support the Constitution of the State of Ohio.

The special meeting of the City Council held Thursday evening was of short duration and little importance was considered except the petition presented asking that the question of naming a commission to frame a charter for the city be submitted to the voters.

It was a hot evening and the councilmen made a vain effort to keep cool in their shirt sleeves. No visitors were present when the meeting opened. Rothrock was the only member absent.

President Light called the Council to order and stated the object of the special session.

Minutes of the last regular session were read, correction made, and approved.

A letter from John W. Deere was read. He asked for the extension of city water on McKinley avenue in Pleasant addition. The service committee will investigate the wish of Mr. Deere.

McLean then presented the petition asking that an election be called for the purpose of deciding the question of whether a commission should be chosen to frame a charter. Mr. McLean stated that there were four of the petitions, containing 241 names.

Durant then made a short speech regarding the petitions and the present municipal code, stating that he believed all would agree that the present municipal code was not adapted to the city's requirements.

In securing the names," said Mr. Durant, "I found many who said that they believed the present system could not be worse."

He also pointed out that the new constitution made it mandatory for council to act forthwith on the matter. He made a motion that the ordinance calling for an election, be read.

Solicitor Rankin, in an opinion on the question, stated that he was of the belief that it was not necessary to read the ordinance three times, but that it was also all right to place it on three readings before passage, if Council wished to do so. All voted to have the ordinance read.

After the first reading Durant moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance placed upon its second and third readings.

When a vote was taken, further action on it for the night was ended by Sheets and Veil voting against it. The vote stood two to four in favor of the question. Solicitor Rankin gave his opinion on the vote, saying that he believed that a majority could pass the ordinance, the law having made special provision regarding such an ordinance.

Durant said that there were two ways out of the difficulty—Council could adjourn to meet again Friday night, or the men who voted no, could reconsider their action. Sheets said that action on the question was unexpected to him, and thought more time should be taken to consider it.

President Light expressed himself as holding the belief that Council should not go contrary to the provisions of the Constitution of Ohio, and thought longer delay useless.

Durant, at this point, took occasion to call attention of Council to the fact that when they had taken the oath of office that they had sworn to uphold the constitution of the state of Ohio and that the constitution made it mandatory for Council to pass on the petition.

When the members voting "nay" showed no inclination to reconsider their vote, after Durant called attention to early action necessary in order to have a vote on the question at the primary election and thus eliminate the expense of a special election, McLean moved to adjourn until tonight at 7:30, when further action will be taken.

Solicitor Rankin states that the section of the constitution of Ohio which is held to make it mandatory for Council to take immediate action on the petition, is Section 8 of Article 18, and says in part:

"The legislative authority of any city or village may by a two-thirds vote of its own members, and upon petition of ten percentum of the electors shall forthwith provide by ordinance for the submission to the electors, 'Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter?'"

Section three of the General Code, regarding the oath of office of city officials, says that the oath "shall be to support the constitution of the United States and constitution of this state, and faithfully to discharge the duties of his office."

MOTORCYCLE "ROAD-HOG" DISAPPEARING

Public Opinion Driving Out the Speed Maniac With the Open Muffler.

The motorcycle, like the automobile in its early days, has been suffering for the sins of a small class of owners.

There is no reason in the world why a motorcycle should not be driven as quietly as the best motor cars. Yet the farmer, the dweller in the small town and the resident of the large city, alike have suffered from the antics of the idiot who whizzes by with muffler cut out, scaring stock, frightening children and having no regard for the rights or safety of others.

To many people it has seemed that, paraphrasing the popular song "Everybody's over-doing it." Yet the explanation is not far to seek. The motorcycle placed a cheap and speedy means of locomotion for the first time within the reach of thousands. Under the circumstances it is only human nature that some of these should abuse their new-found freedom. Nor is it fair to hold the entire industry responsible for this small class.

The force of public opinion, which has practically suppressed the law-defying automobilist, is working wonders with his motorcycling brother.

It is no longer considered "smart" to run over chickens, scare pedestrians, ride with a noisy engine or perform any of the other antics which have aroused a prejudice against motorcyclists in the minds of many citizens. The riders themselves, through their organizations, are doing all they can to help the good cause along.

But a great deal of credit for the change rests with the manufacturers themselves, who in season and out, have endeavored to suppress this nuisance, realizing the damage it did to the industry as a whole.

It was at the suggestion of a manufacturer that the police of Detroit put into operation a plan which has put into operation a plan which lous motorcyclist there. Any rider violating the speed or noise laws was arrested, and in addition to a fine his machine was held by the police for periods varying from two weeks to two months. It took only a few examples to eradicate the evil, and the great body of law-abiding motorcyclists welcomed the change. Adv.

BELL SUCCEEDS GEORGE P. JOHNSON

Announcement has been made of appointment of General Freight and Passenger Agent H. C. Bell, of Detroit to the position of general manager of the D. T. & I. railroad, succeeding Receiver Johnson who is soon to become general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

In assuming the responsibilities of general manager, Mr. Bell will still retain his position as general freight and passenger agent. He is a popular man with every employee of the road and always courteous to all. He has many warm friends in this city who wish him success in his new position.

BITE OF CAT DRIVES MAN INSANE

Chas. D. Fox, of Kingston, was adjudged insane and sent to the Athens State Hospital this week as the result of a cat bite.

Four years ago the young man was bitten by a cat which was said to have hydrophobia, and although he was treated to prevent the disease he worried over the matter so much that he became violently insane.

Death is expected to follow within a short time, as his condition is serious.

DIDN'T KNOW GUN WAS LOADED

Still another case of "didn't know it was loaded" was added to the countless number of similar instances when Ica LeValley, 13, was shot and fatally wounded by William Collins, a neighbor lad of the same age.

The little girl had taken the rifle away from her baby brother a few moments previous to the accident, and young Collins secured the weapon from its hiding place and playfully pointed it at the child, pulling the trigger. The ball penetrated the little girl's lungs.

In Social Circles

Thirty girls of Mrs. Ed Pine's Sunday school were indebted to Mrs. Pine for a delightful morning Kensington Thursday on the shady lawn of the home.

A dainty summer collation was served. The affair was specially in compliment to one of the class, Miss Gladys Jessen, who leaves shortly for her new home in Springfield.

From the Sidney papers is culled the following account of the wedding of a former Washington boy, Terrence Kerrigan, son of J. F. Kerrigan, chief of police of this city about five years ago:

KERRIGAN—SINGER.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was celebrated at the Holy Angels church this morning at eight o'clock, when Hazel Singer the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Singer was united in marriage to Terrence Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kerrigan, and one of the most popular and best known young men of this city.

Among the out-of-town guests who were present to attend the nuptials were Miss Agnes and Miss Ellen Kerrigan of Washington C. H., Katharine and Albert Dodd of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Loth and daughter Alma of Wapakoneta, J. J. Kelley of Washington C. H., Charles Brunn of Detroit, John Brunn of Toledo and Miss Ethel Singer of Columbus.

Miss Helen Glascock entertained the girls of her Sunday school class with an enjoyable picnic supper at Lost Bridge.

Sensational Disclosures

The announcement Thursday of the fact that Burns detectives had been operating in this city for a number of weeks and that as a result of their activities positive information as to existing conditions had been disclosed and a number of sensational prosecutions would result, come as a clap of thunder from a clear sky.

Not more than half a dozen men, if that many, knew that arrangements had been made with the most famous detective agency in the world, to work in this city. It is remarkable that the secret was so well guarded for so long a time.

The evidence which the men back of the movement claim to have received from the detectives is paralyzing.

Much of it is so sensational that newspapers hesitate to give publicity to the facts disclosed until compelled to in reported trials in a court of justice. Other portions are thoroughly revolting and absolutely unprintable in any event.

The men who have stood back of the movement and were instrumental in bringing the detectives here, are deserving of praise for the real courage displayed.

For some of the men claimed to have been caught in the nets laid by the wily Burns sleuths, the public has much sympathy and for others not a bit.

Some of the men if the disclosures made are true, richly deserve the disgrace which will follow fast and relentlessly upon the heels of the disclosures.

The community will be benefitted immensely by following up the work begun by the detectives, to its final conclusion.

Let no guilty man escape his just punishment whether it be a prison sentence or only loss of public esteem is the demand of the good citizens of Washington.

It is never unfortunate for a community that these disclosures come. To think that it is a mistake. The unfortunate part about such affairs is that conditions exist which make such disclosures possible and the fact that innocent people are made to suffer on account of the disgrace which comes to those near to them.

Now that the probe has been inserted and withdraw dripping with the virus of vice, it is advisable to cauterize the sore place thoroughly and with as much haste as possible.

The guilty should be subjected to just and severe punishment—the innocent against whom suspicion attaches should have their names cleared.

The report will be a severe shock to the community, but the good people feel that if vice and crime of the lowest, vilest sort was rampant beneath the placid surface, it is better—far better—to have it routed out.

The wheels within wheels and the invisible bond which binds seeming respectability to crime and vice, and yokes the law with the lawless must be broken at any cost.

Every good citizen will stand at the back of the few who have taken the initiative in this Burns crusade, assist in every way in sifting the absolute truth from the mass submitted, and say hew to the line no matter where the chips fall.

Just how much of the evidence reported by the detectives will stand the test of the courts no man can yet tell, but that some of it is true beyond question is, unfortunately, known positively at this time.

The Tongue May Lie, but the Face Never Lies

By DINH GILLY, Algerian Banjone

LEARN HOW TO READ FACES!

It is not easy to read character, although nearly every individual understands a few infallible signs. The novice knows that a certain kind of pinched expression denotes meanness or avarice, that vacant eyes mean absentmindedness, that bulgy sacs beneath the eyes usually signify talkativeness and mental energy and that a prominent nose with a pronounced bridge shows independence, self esteem and in some cases rare combativeness.

Every one knows a square chin means determination, but FEW DISTINGUISH BETWEEN IT AND A KIND OF PROMINENT CHIN WHICH INVARIABLY SPELLS INSIPIDITY. There is vastly more to learn of the subject, however. THE EYES AND MOUTH TELL MORE TO

THE PHYSIOGNOMIST THAN OTHER FEATURES, and all are modified in one way or another in their revelations according to the relative values found in the entire face.

The trained oriental sees at a glance that which requires close scrutiny by the majority of physiognomists, and it becomes SECOND NATURE FOR HIM TO ANALYZE THE FACES OF THOSE WHOM HE MEETS, though the latter are never made conscious of his examination.

THERE IS NOTHING EGOTISTICAL OR COLD BLOODED IN HABITUAL FACE READING. IT IS SIMPLY SELF PROTECTION. THE TONGUE MAY LIE, BUT THE FACE NEVER LIES. FEIGNED EXPRESSIONS ARE APPARENT TO THE PERSON WHO MAKES A STUDY OF THEM AND COMES TO KNOW WHAT IS NATURAL AND WHAT MAY BE EXPECTED.

Poetry For Today

I'D HATE TO THINK.

I'd hate to think that all I'm here for is to do things people cheer for; And by products of my labor Rouse the envy of my neighbor. Life indeed would be distressful, If man had to be successful In the way men count successes. Ere he tasted happiness; Building every moment sunny Always on the thing called money.

I'd hate to think that I must hurry Here and there and always worry, Letting this grim thought harass me That some stranger may surpass me; Fearful always that I never May be listed with the clever; Every nerve and muscle straining Some advantage to be gaining; Feeling that my short life's story Must conclude in earthly glory.

I'd hate to think my earthly mission Is to serve a great ambition; That I must, to help my brother, Speedily outdo another; Must forego the present pleasure For tomorrow's hoard of treasure; Must, though health and strength diminish Be the first man at the finish, And shall be a failure reckoned, Even though I come in second.

I'd hate to think that only wise is He who captures life's few prizes; That simple ways and quiet manners, Lips that softly hum "hosannas!" Feet that in content are plodding, Grassy ways, where flowers are nodding, Hearts that know not the obsession That all joy is in possession; But are thrilled by love and beauty Do not also die in duty.

"CAN'T YOU HELP MY BABY?"

Mothers of Eczema Tortured Children Ask Us This.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Of all the ills of childhood none causes more suffering than eczema and the other itching, burning rashes that drive the little ones almost frantic.

Nowadays when mothers ask us, "Can't you help my baby get relief from eczema," we can say, "Yes." Our new Skin remedy, Saxo Salve, has worked some very remarkable cures here, not only for children but for adults as well.

Its first effect is to stop the terrible itching and burning, and make the skin comfortable. Then it is absorbed right into the skin, destroying the germs and exerting its healing power at the seat of the disease.

We guarantee Saxo Salve to give satisfaction when used for eruptions and skin troubles, of any kind, paying back your money if it does not. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

P. S. For children's eczema, as an auxiliary treatment, build up the blood with Vinol. We guarantee it.

Seven thousand tents are being pitched southwest of Gettysburg near the scene of the first days' fighting and not far from where Pickett made his charge. The veterans are to camp by states, eight men to each twelve-man tent. Each veteran will have a separate cot, blankets, and a mess kit, which will contain a plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon, and will become his personal property when he breaks camp. Each tent also will have two hand basins, a water bucket, candles and two lanterns. More than $1,000,000 will be spent for their entertainment, one detail alone being 800,000 meals, the first being supper, served June 29.

A bill that may be and one sure to be popular is to authorize any town to appropriate money for the support of a band, brass or otherwise. On the theory that a good band has an improving effect on the community, it would therefore be worth all that it costs the taxpayers.

To those who wish a simple and reliable test for diamonds, drop the stone in a glass of water. An imitation gem will become almost invisible while a real diamond will be distinctly visible, shining out brightly in the water. If you have a magnifying glass to make the examination, the facets of the false gems are even and regular, on a genuine stone they are of various sizes.

A prairie dog settlement in Colorado is estimated to contain 500,000,000 inhabitants. Were the snakes, owls and rabbits, lizards and horned toads which live with the dogs to be counted in, the population of the place would reach the billion mark. These figures are not strictly accurate but any one who has seen such a city knows that there are over 100 dogs to the acre, and this city contains 4,480,000 acres. They live on four kinds of food, cactus, roots of wire grass, green shoots of the sage brush and greasewood. It is said they get sleek and fat on food the ground squirrel would consider starvation diet.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

July 28, 1870.

The ticket put into nomination at the Democratic County convention last Saturday, is composed of the following named gentlemen: Sheriff, Isaac Glaze; commissioner, Wm. Harrison; infirmary director, R. L. Sprinkle; coroner, David Vance.

At the residence of James Beatty, Esquire, near Jasper Mills, July 14, by the Rev. R. Pitzer, Mr. James M. Beatty, son of Milton G. Beatty, to Miss Ellen Kyle, all of Fayette Co., Ohio. A dollar greenbank accompanied the above notice. HEART MAY STOP BEATING.

Physician Says Ten Minute Interruption Is Not Dangerous.

Paris.—The following very interesting statement, some of which are considered striking by the leading lights of French medical science, were made by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute For Medical Research, New York, at his first official lecture at the Paul Beaudon hospital.

Dr. Carrel announced that he was now able to operate in the chest cavity with as much ease and safety as in the abdomen. "It is now a simple cut," he said, "and we open the thorax and operate upon the lungs, heart and aorta as we treat the kidneys and the intestines. We now know also just how much the brain, the spinal cord and the heart can stand as regards the temporary anesthetics required by operations.

"The heart suffers very little from interrupted circulation as long as cur is taken that it has enough oxygen and it may be stopped for five or even ten minutes without danger, while in the spinal marrow the circulation may be stopped as long as twenty minutes. "For the brain, however, four minutes is the limit of safety, and after five it is very difficult to restore normal conditions."

A huge field of work remained, he said in conclusion, to be done as regards operations upon the human heart, and the study of these was of the greatest possible importance. This was especially true of surgery for aneurisms and the shrinking of the aorta or pulmonary arteries.

NO SUBSTITUTE COULD DO THIS.

No inferior substitute, but only the genuine Foley Kidney Pills could have rid J. F. Wallich, Bartlett, Neb., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache, and the pain would run up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work and I am now entirely rid of kidney trouble. My father-in-law, now past 93 years, has taken them and they have added years to his life." BANKER'S DAUGHTER TO WED MILBURN, HERD OF BIG POLO MATCH

New York, June 27.—Miss Nancy G. Steele, the pretty and athletic daughter of Charles Steele, a mem- ber of J. P. Morgan & Co., has re- vealed her secret. She is going to marry Devereaux Milburn, the fa- mous poloist. Milburn was a mem- ber of the winning American team in the international match with the English challengers. The couple were secretly engaged before the match, but were so elated after the victory, in which Milburn played a brilliant part, that they decided to take their friends into their confi- dence. Miss Steele is devoted to out- door sports, and their mutual liking for polo brought the pair into the meshes of Cupid's wiles.

SENSATION SPRUNG IN LAUTERBACK CASE

Impersonator of Congressmen Identified?

Washington, June 27.—Before the lobby investigating committee, Repre- sentative A. Mitchell Palmer of Penn- sylvania (Dem.), gave sensational tes- timony. He charged that a man, whose identity has been established, represented himself to Lewis G. Led- yard, the New York lawyer, as Mr. Palmer himself. The impersonation of Representative Palmer was similar to that which has taken place in the case of Representative Daniel Rior- dan. The impersonator did his work entirely over the telephone and said that matters in which Mr. Ledyard was interested in Washington could be fixed through his influence.

Mr. Ledyard through an accident discovered that the man with whom he had been talking over the telephone on several occasions was not Mr. Palmer, and Mr. Palmer, joining with Mr. Ledyard, attempted to run down the individual who was using the con- gressman's name.

Mr. Ledyard tried to arrange an in- terview with the man on the tele- phone but he was wary. Finally, after repeated efforts, he recognized the voice over the telephone and ad- vised Mr. Ledyard to have a personal interview with a gentleman who could verify everything that the al- leged Palmer was saying about his own and the ability of various other persons to control legislative matters. Mr. Ledyard finally made the appoint- ment with this third party and then, according to Representative Palmer's own words, "At the hour of the ap- pointment there appeared at Mr. Led- yard's house, Mr. Edward Lauterbach, a member of the bar of New York city."

Mr. Palmer testified further that Lauterbach, at the interview, rep- resented that he spoke for several im- portant gentlemen in the house of representatives, who were able to do things. Lauterbach further, it was charged, urged Ledyard to go to Washington with him and meet men high in the house organization, in- cluding even Champ Clark, speaker of the house, and Oscar W. Under- wood, the floor leader.

When Mr. Lauterbach took the stand he emphatically denied all charges that he was concerned in any improper way in the negotiations and alleged threats. He absolved Repre- sentatives Palmer, Rioridan, Under- wood, Clark and others whose names had been dragged in with having any connection with him. Mr. Lauterbach charged that the attacks upon him before the senate committee repre- sented an effort on the part of the Morgan house to "crush" him.

CHINESE BEETLES DEVOUR MOSQUITOS.

Philadelphia, June 27.—City Entomologist Hornik, the official exterminator of mosquitoes in this city, has devised a new way to rid the city of these pests. He has growing on a farm in South Philadelphia 200 preying mantis, the Chinese beetles which the mandarins use like fighting cocks. Each of these mantis will produce 300 young, and they are already swarming over the trees in the southern section of the city and devouring all the mosquitoes they can get hold of.

OLD POLITICAL FEUD OFFICIALLY ENDED

Tillman and Gonzales Recon- ciled, Even After Bloodshed.

Columbia, S. C.—When United States Senator Benjamin Ryan Tillman of South Carolina recently consented to the confirmation by the senate of Pres- ident Wilson's appointment of William E. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia (S. C.) State, as minister to Cuba a fa- mous political and personal feud of twenty-four years' standing in South Carolina came to an official end. The Tillman and Gonzales families have been bitter enemies, and the Palmetto State has been the scene of many heated battles fought by able leaders on both sides. On one occasion the differ- ences were augmented by bloodshed.

The Gonzales brothers—three of them were exponents of views of the old aristocratic element, the ex- slave owners and wealthy planters who could trace their ancestors back hun- dreds of years and who composed the society element and the financial back- bone of the state.—Senator Tillman in his vigorous and stirring campaign for governor of South Carolina in the early nineties was victorious over this op- position. He was elected United States senator and has served his state in this capacity for the past sixteen years.

James Tillman, a nephew of the sen- ator, was elected lieutenant governor. Later he was a candidate for governor. The Gonzales' fight on the Tillmans had never let up—many stinging and rebelling editorials were published in their paper. James Tillman was de- feated. Shortly after the election he met N. G. Gonzales, at that time editor of the paper, on the streets of Columbia and shot him dead. He sub- sequently was acquitted. A monument now stands in Columbia honoring the memory of N. G. Gonzales. On this it is recorded that Gonzales was "mur- dered" near the spot where the monu- ment stands.

Jim Tillman, as he was generally known, was later retired from politics. He became ill with tuberculosis. The climate of the west failed to cause an improvement in his condition, and he returned to his native state. In the meantime he had quarreled with his uncle, and the breach was an open one. The last days of Jim Tillman were spent in a lonely little cottage at Ashe- ville, N. C., and he died there about a year ago.

The bitter campaign of 1912 against Cole L. Blease came on in South Caro- lina in August, 1912. For the first time Tillman and Gonzales were on the same side, both favoring the elec- tion of the opponent of Blease. This tended to bring the two factions on closer terms. The fact that Senator Tillman permitted the senate to con- firm the appointment of Mr. Gonzales as minister to Cuba officially ends the struggle of twenty years, marked by a continual and able fighting on both sides and, even by bloodshed.

SLEPT IN THE PARK

Helen McCarthy Ran Away From Home to Avoid School.

New York, June 27.—Miss Helen McCarthy, 16, was found in Fort Washington Park here. She had not been kidnapped or harmed. She had merely run away from home. When she disappeared from the Hotel Har- grave, Tuesday last, it was to avoid going to school and to make her own way in the world. She roved the East Side trying to get work. Then she walked up to Washington Heights and slept at night under the trees in the park above the Hudson. She lived on cakes. The girl wished to go home, but did not know the way. She was restored to her mother.

REMEMBER!

Six Months Ago It Froze Hard at High Noon and Fur Coats Were Desirable. Then You'll Be Cool.

Many people thought that yesterday was the hottest day of the year but according to weather bureau records they were mistaken.

The mercury will have to go higher than 92.5 degrees, the mark in the official thermostat in the weather observation station at Columbus, if it beats the record of yesterday.

At Columbus street level yesterday the temperature was 99 degrees between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 9 o'clock last night it still stood at 87 degrees in the State-house kiosk. Although the relative humidity yesterday morning was 79 per cent, it had dropped by evening to 49 per cent. Few persons noticed any relief.

The night promised to give little drop in temperature and there was only a sluggish wind to fan perspiring persons. Eight miles an hour was the best speed the breezes could muster yesterday.

June 26, with an official maximum temperature of 94.6 degrees, and June 16, with 94.2 degrees official and 100 degrees in the kiosk, however, beat yesterday.

It is suggested as a good plan to keep thinking that only six months ago water was frozen at noon day and fur collars were a real comfort.

The temperature recorded in this city yesterday according to Gossard's thermometer was as follows:

6 a. m.	84
12 Noon	86
3 p. m.	92
6 p. m.	87
9 p. m.	77
12 m.	73
The temperature recorded today is:
6 a. m.	75
9 a. m.	86
12 noon	90
3 p. m.	92

ELIMINATING THE DEATH RATE

Science is working restlessly toward the prevention and cure of diseases and the prolongation of life. The gradual reduction of the death rate is one of the encouraging incidents of modern civilization.

The present generation has seen the yellow fever stamped out in its Cuban breeding places and a scourge that used to carry off many thousands annually in the southern cities of the United States is put at an end.

The bubonic plague that at times in the past claimed its victims by the millions has been hemmed in by sanitation and no longer overruns and devastates the civilized world.

Smallpox is no longer a terrifying pestilence. Only where there is laxity of modern scientific methods can it gain a hold. What was once the commonest and most dreaded infection in this country has become one of the rarest and least fatal of diseases.

Typhoid fever has been traced to its most common source, and only in cities that, from false ideas of economy, neglect to safeguard their supplies of water and milk does it any longer claim a heavy death rate.

Diphtheria has been mastered by antitoxin and confined by sanitation.

The death rate from all these old scourges has been enormously decreased in all the cities of the land.

There can be no question of the fact and no doubt that the chief causes lie in the better standard of living, in improved sanitation and in a more rational comprehension of the conditions of health.

The lessening of infant mortality is a very important feature of this general movement.

Such obvious improvements as a purer milk supply and the more successful treatment of infantile diseases are not adequate to account for it.

The officials are disposed to attach much importance to the education of mothers in domestic hygiene. But this is only another form of the same thing. Mothers have learned and applied the discoveries of science.

Where is it all to end? There is no reason to doubt that scientific men will in the next decade make as great, if not even greater, advances than have been made in the last. One discovery opens the way to many others. And if cure may be effected in a certain case why not a million, if the remedies and conditions be properly applied.

Still the average span of human life does not grow longer. We have no Methuselahs. Even a centenarian is a rarity.

With the death rate reduced what becomes of us? Statistics prove that we no longer die as fast as we used to, yet at the same time other statistics prove that neither do we live longer now than formerly. Athens Messenger.

HADLEY LEWIS MEETS DEATH

Son of Banker E. A. Lewis of Sabina and Who Married Leola Smith of Near Buena Vista, Crushed to Death at Brick Plant in Athens County--Burial Tomorrow at Sabina.

Hadley Lewis, aged 27 years, son of E. A. Lewis, of the Sabina bank, was crushed to death under some shale cars at the plant of the Wassaic Brick Company, near Glouster, Athens county, Wednesday evening, and his funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at Sabina, where interment will be made in the family lot at four o'clock.

Mr. Lewis, who was married two years ago to Miss Leola Smith, of Buena Vista, was superintendent of the brick plant, and owned large interests about Glouster.

The Athens Messenger gives the following account of his death:

"Young Lewis stepped in front of a string of empty shale cars to avoid the loaded trip which was pulling the empties up the hill and which traveled on parallel tracks. From what the coroner could learn Lewis' death resulted from being absent minded as he had often spoken of how a person would be killed on this incline. The cars were traveling about ten miles an hour and Lewis was caught beneath three cars and rolled quite a distance before the trip was stopped. His injuries were mainly internal.

As soon as he was taken from beneath the second car of the string Lewis realized that he was fatally hurt and during the half hour before he died he talked with his men and the physician and his last words were of his young wife and baby. His wife arrived a few minutes before he died and he spoke to her although he could not see her. He had been married about two years.

ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

The "Sunlight" girls met at the home of Miss Alma Curl on Eastern avenue Wednesday night and were royally entertained after the business hour, the evening was spent in music and a Kensington Refreshments were served. At ten o'clock the guests departed declaring Miss Curl a delightful hostess. There were eight members present.

GRIFF'S TEAM BUMPED HARD

Washingtons Easy For the Fast-Flying Philadelphians.

Washington, June 27.—Washington dropped both games of a double-header to the Athletics here. The Mackmen batted Groome and Mullin hard and had little difficulty in solving the deliveries of Griffith's relief twirlers. The scores:

"DAT A BOY" JENNINGS SAYS HE PREFERENCES THE SCRAPPY BALL PLAYER TO THE QUIET ONE

Detroit, Mich., June 27.—Hughie Jennings says he has no use for the ball player who will not stand up for his rights on the diamond. In talking about the scrappy ball players Jennings recently said: "I want players who will fight their way through a league race. I want a band of scrappers, not a collection of faltering youths. I do not believe in starting a riot on the ball field or anything that pertains to rowdiness, but I certainly do believe in having the spectators know that we will display vim and ambition when our position is trampled upon. The Tigers fought their way through to three pennants, and while I am leading the team they will fight their way to others. If they fail to win it will be because a better team was out ahead. It will not be because we are out-gamed. The Detroit team is one that will not stand for incorrect decisions on the part of umpires. When an umpire makes a mistake the fans of the American league can depend on it that my players will display their displeasure. I wouldn't give a canceled stamp for a man who would not assert his rights. There isn't any question in my mind but that umpires in the major leagues give their rulings as they see them, but we are all wrong at times, and when we are wrong others immediately interested have the right to correct us. So it is with umpires." Picture shows Hughie Jennings on coaching lines urging one of his players on with his new famous phrase: "Dat a boy; go to 'em!"

JOHNSON IN CANADA

Black Pugilist and White Wife On Their Way to Europe.

Montreal, June 27.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, who is in this city, admitted that he intended to sail for Europe Tuesday to engage in fights in St. Petersburg, next September. He said he did not intend to forfeit his bail bond, which calls for his presence next November in Chicago, where he is under sentence on a white slave charge. Johnson is accompanied by his white wife.

WHEN MERKLE COULDN'T ANSWER ENRAGED FAN.

One hot day last summer Fred Merkle, the Giants' first baseman, had just scored from first on a long hit. A few moments later, playing first, he chased four long fouls in succession, just missing each one by one step.

As the fifth foul looped up some fifty feet away, dizzy, tired out and all in, Merkle only trotted for it, where he couldn't have snagged it at full speed.

As he picked up the ball he looked up into the red, apoplectic face of an enraged fan only ten or twelve feet away giving this advice: "Why don't you get in the game, you big stew, and play ball? No wonder the club is in a slump with a lot of loafers like you fourflushing on the job!"

"And I couldn't say a thing," recounted Merkle afterward, "for I saw the fellow was all worked up and on the level. And yet, if he had felt as I did after that fourth foul, he'd have been in a hospital."

LEAGUE MOGULS AFTER GAMBLERS

Baseball Club Owners Start Crusade on Betting.

WOULD BE SPORTS BARRED.

Every National and American Magazine Will Make Strong Effort to Keep Out Gambling Element—There Has Been Plenty of Betting on Games in Several Cities.

At last strong steps have been taken to combat the gambling menace to baseball. All the big magnates are making heroic efforts to stamp out betting within their ball parks and making the crusade in a body.

The crusade grows out of the reports that considerable open gambling was indulged in at Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Detroit, Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

The crusade will be continued and with no letup until every professional gambler as well as those who wager small amounts among themselves "on the quiet" will have to refrain from the "gambling instinct," so called, or else they will be barred from the ball parks altogether as "objectionable" parties. They will be left out in the cold, too, and without any means of redress.

That is a privilege the management of the big league clubs has by legal rights that have been tested time and again.

The magnates fear that if measures were not taken at once to stamp out this evil the bookmakers would soon be posting odds on the games inside the baseball parks, and if this came to pass it would not be long before the game would be in bad repute.

Many years ago betting came near killing baseball, for it became known that some of the ball players were in league with the gamblers, throwing the games or trying to win them, as the betting demanded. The managers, fearing out the guilty ones, black-listed them and then framed rules to safeguard the game against a repetition of the scandal. How well they succeeded is best told by the great popularity of the game today, for baseball has grown and developed until it is indeed the great national pastime, equaled by no other game that was ever invented.

RACE HORSE BRINGS FORTUNE

Argentina Government Pays $150,000 For Craganour.

The sum of $150,000 was paid recently by the government of Argentina for the horse Craganour, which was first past the winning post in the English Derby a few weeks ago, but was disqualified for bumping.

Only on four occasions has the prize paid for Craganour, which is to be used for breeding purposes in Argentina, been exceeded in the amount paid for a race horse. These were Ormonde, which was sold for $156,250 to an American sportsman, Cyllene, which went to an English sportsman for $157,500; Diamond Jubilee, sold to an Argentine breeder for $157,500; and Flying Fox, which holds the record for price and was sold to a French sportsman for $196,875.

Nervy Convict Follows Saurian Into Sewer and Pulls Him Out.

Columbus, O., June 27.—Like Sanders, negro convict and a trusty, went into the sewer hole that leads from the prison yard and, single-handed, brought out one of the big penitentiary alligators that had crawled down the hole. The alligator, which is half again as big as Sanders, crawled from the pool and got into the hole. Without hesitation Sanders went into the hole with a lantern. He finally got the animal by the tail and hauled it near enough to the sewer hole so that other prisoners could get hold of it, and then, crawling out, helped drag it back into captivity.

Still Delving For Facts In the California Casss

Developments in the Caminetti-Diggs case. He accused the attorney general of "hypocrisy" and attacked the president for upholding his hands. He declared Diggs and Caminetti were charged with the violation of the white slave act under circumstances and conditions which, if true, would make men blush.

"Caminetti's father," said Mr. Mann, "had been appointed commissioner general of immigration, one of the duties of which is to enforce white slave laws. A fine man to put in that position, whose principal object is to leave his office in order to go to the side of his 27-year-old son under trial for a white slave offense. What reason was given by Mr. McReynolds or anyone else for the postponement of the Diggs case? Why should the Diggs case also have been postponed? They were two separate cases."

Representative Mann wanted to know what District Attorney McNah had done that merited censure. He had merely called the president's attention to the fact that the attorney general's office had been imposed upon. Mr. Mann then went on to ridicule the attorney general's explanation for postponing the case, and asked: "What kind of an attorney general is he who, having on file from the district attorney statements to the effect that people are endeavoring to thwart the administration of justice and to bribe or buy witnesses of the government, and then postpones the case on the receipt of a telephone message from a cabinet officer? We demand," concluded Mr. Mann, "the enforcement of the laws."

Representing a Concession Very Material To The Bankers

made in several sections of the measure.

Under the sections of the bill which have been restored the government is authorized to issue not only the $500,000,000 of treasury notes authorized in the bill in its original form, but also additional notes in an amount equal to the amount of national bank notes retired. The national bank currency is to be retired gradually over a period of 20 years, but the bill in reality now carries authorization for the issuing of the $500,000,000 plus $712,000,000, the amount of the outstanding national bank notes.

KOREAN LABORERS FORCED TO LEAVE

California Incident May Cause Fresh Muss With Japan.

Riverside, Cal., June 27.—The anti-oriental sentiment of citizens of Hemet, a mountain town 10 miles from here, may lead to international complications with Japan. A party of Hemet people drove out of town a party of Korean apricot pickers who had been engaged by orchardists near town. The Asiatics were not maltreated, but they were escorted to a train and forced to leave at once. Later the mayor and several prominent citizens openly repudiated the expulsion of the Koreans as illegal, but the great majority of the people commend it.

The secretary of the Japanese association of southern California telegraphed the facts of the case to the Japanese consul general in San Francisco, and as Korea is a Japanese dependency, it is expected the consul will demand protection for these men.

Mediation Bill Passed.

Washington, June 27.—The senate passed the Newlands bill, providing for mediation, conciliation and arbitration in controversies between railway employees and employers. The bill provides for the creation of the new office of "commissioner of mediation and conciliation." The salary will be $7,500 a year.

JURY BOX BENEATH TREE.

Justice, Ejected From City Hall, Holds Court on Lawn.

St. Louis—With his desk under a big oak tree and the jury box arranged under another tree near by, Justice Frank Ford of Upper Alton held court in the yard of the town lot in Upper Alton.

Justice Ford was ejected from the village hall several days ago by the city officials, who allege that he is holding office illegally and has no right to city quarters.

Ford had a child abandonment case to try, and he arranged everything outside under the tree, where his desk and law books still remain, just as they were piled outside by the police who ejected him.

Twice little showers caused judge, jury and witnesses to run to the near by store.
